

JENNIFER MIZHQUIRI BARBECHO

jsmizhquiri@gmail.com | (347) 738-0115 | www.linkedin.com/in/mizhquiri

Education

Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health, New York, NY May 2023 (expected)
Master of Public Health (MPH),
Department of Health Policy and Management
Certificate: Applied Biostatistics and Public Health Data Science
Relevant coursework: Applied Regression I, Health Claims Data Analytics, Healthcare Accounting & Budgeting

Cornell University, Ithaca, NY May 2016
Bachelor of Arts, Literatures in English

Project Management and Technology Experience

Center for Behavioral Cardiovascular Health (CBCH)
Columbia University Irving Medical Center, New York, NY

Project Manager July 2022 – Present

- Overseeing the management and evaluation for several implementation science grant portfolios
- Developing automation workflows and smoothing administrative processes to maximize staffing output
- Increasing capacity of the overall team and identifying skills building projects for direct reports

Project Coordinator II October 2019- July 2022

- Led an interdisciplinary group of external and internal stakeholders to create and update timelines, adapt to changes in priority, including creating scopes of work and communicating the overall mission of the research
- Evaluated, tested, and workshopped workstreams for multiple web application-based and quality interventions for remote-only and hybrid recruitment processes
- Identified quality and performance indicators and aggregated, analyzed, and applied data to guide team directives
- Co-led an equity-driven hiring process and onboarded several new direct reports, managing the expansion and direct supervision of the recruitment team
- Oversaw the preparation of federally required progress reports

Clinical Research Coordinator October 2018 - October 2019

- Conducted and analyzed mixed-methods UX interviews in English and Spanish to generate usability recommendations and ensure web application language was accessible to patients
- Findings and visualizations presented in the 2019 SGIM poster session conference
- Contributed to interdisciplinary brainstorming sessions focused on human centered design and behavioral change frameworks

Accounting and Finance Experience

Center for Behavioral Cardiovascular Health (CBCH)

Research Assistant July 2017 – October 2018

- Designed and launched a multi-member workstream to optimize participant compensation and reduce waiting period of 4 weeks by 100%.
- Built and tested an excel database to track project fees per period and ensure compliance
- Filed and validated insurance status and accurately filed ICD10 and CPT codes

Cornell University

Student Treasurer 2012 – 2015

- For various organizations, reconciled student expenditures per Cornell student assembly reimbursement policies during academic terms and monitored budget goals

Leadership Experience

DEI Employee Working Group Member 2020 – Present

Volunteer Coordinator, Susan G. Komen NYC 2017

President, The Triple Helix (Student Organization) 2015 – 2016

Writing Tutor, Cornell University 2014 - 2016

Cornell Annual Fund Caller 2015

Skills

| | |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| Language | Fluent in Spanish |
| Computer | Microsoft Teams, Powerpoint & Power Automate, Experian |
| Data Analysis & Visualization | SAS, R, STATA, Qualtrics, REDCap, EPIC Power User, Tableau |
| Additional | Shotokan Karate, 1st Kyu – Brown Belt |